Lab coats are provided for CVM Faculty and staff to protect uniforms and personal clothing from unsanitary conditions so that they may be removed and the uniform or personal clothing remain unsoiled. Clothing SOILED from any manner should be removed and replaced with CLEAN attire.

When leaving your respective work area to enter the Pegasus Dining Area, please remove your lab coat so as not to contaminate the dining environment and also in consideration of your co-workers. Locker areas have been assigned for those CVM employees in the AHC and Research for this specific use. Additionally, coat racks are provided at the main entrance to the Pegasus Dining area for your convenience of lab coat storage while dining. Exceptions to these guidelines may exist with CLEAN lab coats placed over CLEAN surgical scrubs for their protection.
